

CLARIFICATION PROJECT IDENTIFICATION AND PIECEMEALING

---

Section A.2.2 discussed identification and description of the problem or opportunity. Proponents are reminded that in assessing the magnitude and extent of a problem (e.g. the scope of the project) where multiple projects may be possible, it is important, that the projects not be broken down or piecemealed into component parts or phases with each part being addressed through separate studies.